

N. Y. HONOR COP FINDS SHELL FIRE JUST LIKE SUBWAY

Sergeant Owens, with Ambulance in France, Writes Germans Give No Quarter.

Adding Detective Sergeant Martin Owens, who is serving the ambulance of the Honor Legion of the New York Police Department, has written another letter from France to the President of the Honor Legion. It is dated "Somewhere in France, Aug. 11." The letter in part follows:

"I arrived out at the section on the 15th of July and was very much surprised to find them in a position—ready as the division to which we are assigned were at rest, and when they rest we do the same. The car was sent out to me about two days later and I have only received the plate for it today, and I can assure you that I lost no time in putting it on the car.

"Up to a few days ago I was only carrying sick soldiers from one camp to another—as were the rest of the section. But now we are right up at the front and expect to be kept busy.

"As I write you this the shells are both the French and Germans are raging over my head. But you can rest that I am out of their reach. We live in any old place we can find out here, and sometimes sleep in our cars. But just now I am in a 'baricade' about 300 yards from the front German line and all the shooting goes over my head. The sound of the shells is like riding in the subway and having something go over your head and see the lightning will get you and. That is the way it is here. I don't see any reason why I should be any more afraid than I am of the shells. I don't see any reason why I should be any more afraid than I am of the shells. I don't see any reason why I should be any more afraid than I am of the shells.

"It is a great sight to see the night light. But it is a wonderful very dark night and we are very often surrounded by the darkness to get our way.

"I am very sorry to say that within the last two weeks we have lost eight men, all of whom were young college men. Some drove over the shells as they exploded on the road and some were hit by pieces of shells. It makes no difference to the Germans when they shoot at us. And we heard from some of the German prisoners that they are not to take any of the American drivers as prisoners, but to shoot them whenever possible—fine boys, aren't they? Add me so young—so you see it is not so pleasant here after all.

"Some of the fellows who came here before me only signed up for six months, but mine is for the duration of the war. And every time one of them leaves for home or Paris they give me the big laugh and say that
